Headline:
Intermittent rain clearing tonight. Chilly. Sometimes bright, with showers Saturday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Cloud and intermittent rain, perhaps sleety for a time on hills, will clear erratically southwards this evening, then clear spells will form later in the night. Becoming chilly, with a touch of ground frost possible, mainly Oxfordshire. Minimum temperature 1 deg C (34 deg F).

Saturday:
Largely dry at first, but showers will develop, perhaps merging into a longer spell of rain, with possible sleet on hills, then clearing by evening. A frost will form overnight. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Cold on Sunday, with further showers, possibly wintry, frosty overnight. Turning milder on Monday and Tuesday with sunny spells, and a freshening westerly breeze. Overnight frosts possible.
